INDEX

TO THE

THIRTEENTH VOLUME

OF THE

Weekly Entertainer.

A.

ABSTINENCE, obſervations on its effects, both in man and the brute creation, 36.

Advertiſement, curious, 361.

Agriculture, obſervations on, particularly that of the Romans, 169.

American toleration, account of, by Elkanan Wincheſter, 350.

Anagrams, 41, 92, 140, 164, 212, 260, 285, 453, 500, 549. Anſwers to, 20, 92, 117, 140, 289, 331, 427, 452, 498, 499, 572.

Anecdote of a ſingular oddity in a Colonel, 62. of Dr. Freind and Dr. Mead, 63. of a methodiſt preacher, 67. of Mr. Gibbon, 136, 494. of Dr. Monſey, 139. a remarkable, 156. a ludicrous, 157. of a Roman lady, 202. of a French officer, 278. of the firſt Empreſs Catherine of Ruſſia, 279. of a quaker and a highwayman, 379. of the Earl of Shrewſbury, and Queen Elizabeth, 422. of Dr. Woodward, 423. of Parſon Patten, of Whitſtable, 426. of the celebrated Sterne, ibid. of a ſailor, 460. of Dr. Kennicott, 475. of the late Hon. C. W. Cornwall, 493. of General Koningſmark, 542. reſpecting ſmuggling, 545. of an old woman and a juſtice of the peace, 595.

Anecdotes of Broughton, the celebrated bruiſer, 65. of the value of money and commodities, from the earlieſt periods of the Engliſh hiſtory, 89. of the ingenious Mrs. Brooke, 124. of the late George Lord Lyttelton, 173. of Iſrael Mauduit, Eſq. 184. extraordinary anecdotes of the late Ducheſs of Kingſton, 300. of the late Lord and Lady Vane, 592. of Count Sarsfield, 592.

Amuſement, an elegant, for our country friends, 522.

Appearances, on keeping up, by Mr. Maſtix, 494.

B.

Barney, Timothy, ſingular character of, 313.

Baſingſtoke canal, extracts from Shaw's tour to the weſt of England in 1788, on the ſubject of the, 553.

Benevolence, on, and the proper uſe of riches, 329.

Boethius, memoirs of the life of that celebrated Chriſtian and philoſopher, 439.

Bon mots, 269, 620.

Botany Bay expedition, particulars of the, 316. narrative of the, by Captain Watkin Tench, of the marines, 364.

Burns,

Burns, remarkable effect of honey in, 621.

C.

Card playing in England, obſervations on the antiquity of, by the Hon. Daines Barrington, 157.
Caſlon, Mr. William, ſome account of that ingenious letter-founder, 100.
Caſtle building, thoughts on, 276.
Catholic diſſenters of England, their petition to Parliament, 467.
Character, a, 411.
Characters, by J. P. Andrews, Eſq. 618. by the late Frederick, King of Pruſſia, 186.
Charades, 21, 41, 68, 92, 117, 140, 164, 212, 236, 260, 285, 333, 381, 405, 428, 452, 477, 500, 573, 597, anſwers to, 20, 68, 115, 116, 163, 188, 210, 211, 236, 309, 332, 380, 404, 427, 451, 476, 499, 572, 596.
Chatham, Lord, and Lord Rodney, correſpondence between them, on the ſubject of a promiſe made by the former to the latter of a guard-ſhip to Lord Rodney's ſon, 590.
Chelſea College, abridgement of Captain Groſe's account of, 208.
Cephiſa, a character, 277.
Circaſſians of the Cabardas, account of the, by G. Ellis, Eſq. 40.
Clenard, Nicholas, account of his life and writings, 396.
Clergyman, the exemplary, a true character, 15.
Clorindano and Medoro, ſtory of, 102.
Commerce, on the improvements of, 461.
Country gentleman, account of his viſit to London, in company with his wife and family, 584.
Courts and courtiers, remarks on, 409.
Craven, Lady, abſtract of her tour through the Crimea to Conſtantinople, written in 1786. 385. her account of her viſit to the famous grotto of Antiparos, 472.

D.

Death, on, 182.
Dream, account of a remarkable, 547.
Duelling, epiſode upon, 351.

E.

Earl of Caithneſs, account of the, 377.
Education, ingratitude, and jealouſy, thoughts on, by J. J. Rouſſeau, 230.
Edward IV. account of the diſcovery of the coffin and body of, 298.
Engagement, account of the memorable one between the fleets of England and Holland, June 3, 1665, 505.
Engliſh navy, remarkable incident to the honour of the, 594.
Engliſh conſtitution, remarks on the nature of the, by the Marquis de Caſaux, 369.
Enigmas, 21, 45, 69, 93, 141, 165, 189, 213, 237, 261, 285, 333, 357, 381, 405, 428, 453, 477, 501, 524, 573, 597, 621. Anſwers to, 19, 43, 92, 115, 116, 163, 187, 211, 259, 260, 284, 356, 380, 426, 451, 499, 500, 548.
Eſcape! what an, a parental leſſon, 607.

F.

Fleas, on the propagation and deſtruction of, 471.
Florio, a moral hiſtory, 529.
Franklin, Dr. his addreſs to the United States of America, 252. his letter on the ſubject of early marriages, 559.

G.

Goodneſs of God, obſervations on, by Dr. Price, 105.
Greig, Admiral Sir Samuel, ſome account of, and alſo of his magnificent funeral, 64.

H.

Harley, hiſtory of Amelia, written by herſelf, 176.

H, obſervations on the abuſe of the aſpiration of, 425.
Henderſon, Mr. original traits in his character, 457.
Hope, Dr. ſhort account of that eminent Scotch phyſician, by Dr. Duncan, 445.
Horoſcope, the, an Oriental tale, 490.
Hurd, Biſhop, his opinion reſpecting the qualifications neceſſary for a young ſenator, 475.
Hyacinth in water, experiment of blowing a, with the bulb inverted, 292.
Hydrophobia, a caſe of, by Mr. James Ruſſel, 269.

I.

Ideas, on the advantages of communicated, 355.
Influenza of 1788, account of, 538.

J.

Johnſon, Dr. Samuel, his letter to Dr. Lawrence, on the death of Mrs. Lawrence, 446.

L.

Ladies, miſcellaneous obſervations relative to the, 125.
Landaff, Biſhop of, extracts from his addreſs to young perſons after confirmation, 42.
Land of Promiſe, deſcription of the, 315.
Law, Biſhop, account of, 154.
Leeds, Duke of, his own account of his meeting the Earl of Devonſhire and Mr. John D'Arcy, at Whittington, A. D. 1688, 289.
Lichfield, antient and preſent ſtate of the cathedral of, 570.
Longevity, inſtance of extraordinary, 15.
Lottery, an adventurer in the, 511.
Love and ambition, a moral tale, 416.

M.

Machan, the hiſtory of Robert, 369.
Mahomedan chief, affecting circumſtance relative to the family and fate of one who had conducted the ſiege of Tellicherry, 228.
Manſfield, Lord, character of, 354.
Marriage, dialogue on, and other collateral topics, 1.
Matilda, Queen of Denmark, intereſting particulars of, and other diſtinguiſhed perſonages at the Daniſh court, 371.
Mental faculties, remarkable inſtance of the recovery of the uſe of the, 121.
Military muſic, the effects of, 18.
Modern manners, 248.
Monaldeſchi, the Marquis of, relation of the circumſtances attending his execution, by the Rev. Father Le Bell, his confeſſor, 52.
Monſey, Dr. account of that ſingular character, 255, 265.
Motte, Counteſs de la, curious letter from her to the Monthly Reviewers, 558.
Mowing cabbage, account of the, by l'Abbe de Commerell, 307.

N.

National affairs, 25, 145, 241, 337, 433, 560.
Natural hiſtory, eſſay on the application of to poetry, by J. Aikin, 206.
Newfoundland, account of the Banks of, and the fiſhery thereon, 586.
Nuptial funeral, the, an hiſtorical anecdote, 390.

O.

Original compoſition, thoughts on, 492.
Orthography, ſpecimens of, 136, 279.

P.

Paris, deſcription of, by Mrs. Piozzi, 610.
Parliament of Scotland, account of the original conſtitution of, by George Wallace, Eſq. 137.
Pegu, deſcription of the inhabitants of, by W. Hunter, A. M. 97.
Peloponeſus, deſcription of its antient ſtate, with reſpect to manufactures, by Mr. Gibbon, 38.

Penneck, Rev. John, of Gulval, in Cornwall, inſcription to his memory, 332.
Peter the Cruel, hiſtory of, with an account of his being killed by his brother, Henry Count of Traſtmara, by Mr. Dillon, 293.
Pilgrims, the, a novel, 197, 223.
Pitt, character of Mr. 378.
Polite behaviour, rules for, 273.
Poor in ſpirit, remarks on the general import of that phraſe, as uſed by our Saviour, by the Rev. Dean Smith, 204.
Popiſh miſſion to Japan, ſtatement of the, 485.
Polwhele, Mr. his circular letter to the ſubſcribers to his Hiſtory of Devon, 577.
Porteus, Biſhop, extract from his ſermon at St. Paul's on the thankſgiving day, April 23, 1789, 508.
Prettyman, Biſhop, extracts from and remarks on his ſermon on January 30, 1789, 521.
Price, Dr. Richard, intereſting reflections by, 328.
Pringle, Sir John, abridgment of Dr. Kippis's life of, 193, 217.
Proceſſion, extraordinary annual, 534.
Pruſſia, Frederick the Great, King of, his character of Lord Chatham, of his mother, the Queen Dowager of Pruſſia, and his ſiſter, the Marchioneſs of Bareith, 13. extracts from his eſſay on government, 462.
Public thankſgivings, authentic particulars of the proceſſion in the reign of Queen Anne, on the days of, 325.

Q.

Quakers, yearly epiſtle of the, 588.
Queſtions, 20, 41, 68, 140, 168, 188, 212, 236, 284, 333, 404, 451, 502, 573. Anſwers to, 115, 187, 210, 331, 379, 404, 451, 476, 524, 548, 596.

R.

Rayner, Rev. Mr. Thomas, ſhort character of that reſpectable Dorſetſhire clergyman, 278.
Rebuſſes, 45, 117, 141, 164, 188, 236, 309, 381, 405, 428, 453, 476, 597. Anſwers to, 20, 116, 259, 332, 572.
Receipts, true copies of, 524, 595.
Rennel, Mr. Thomas, of Dartmouth, ſome account of, 245, 290.
Robbery, an extraordinary, 129.
Royal family of England, account of their deſcent from Lionel the firſt Duke of Clarence, 614.
Ruſſel, Thomas, Fellow of New College, Oxon, ſhort account of him, 471.

S.

Scipio, Publius Cornelius, account of that illuſtrious Roman, 77.
Scotland, new obſervations on the various beautiful and picturеſque ſcenery, particularly that exhibited by the city and environs of Edinburgh, 413.
Self-admirer, the, a tale from modern life, 80.
Situation, the trying, a moral tale, 130, 149.
Slave-trade, letter againſt, written by a Quaker, vindicating the character of the ſlaves, 17. Mr. Wilberforce's twelve propoſitions for aboliſhing the, 481. extracts from the report of the Privy Council on that ſubject, 543.
Socrates, his ſentiments on the important ſubjects of induſtry and œconomy, 447.
Spain, view of the ſtate of literature there, and an account of the affair of Don Pablo Olavide, a native of Peru, by the Chevalier Burgoanne, a French author, 394.
Suffocation, remarkable inſtance of recovery from, by the uſe of the means recommended by the Humane Society of London, 194.

T.

Tarrat, Iſaac, ſingular character of, 299.
Taſſo Torquato, account of his life, 323, 345.
Thankſgiving ſermon, extracts from one preached by a country curate, 423.

Trials, intereſting, 174, 233, 282, 392, 516, 601.
Turks, M. Savary's account of the manner in which a very alarming inſurrection among them was quelled by the coolneſs and prudence of the Pacha of Canea, 106.

V.

Verſes. Lines written by the late ingenious Mr. Headley, of Norwich, during his illneſs, 22. on winter, by T. Whicker, of Exon, 23. to a young lady of Jerſey, 24. carding and ſpinning, an epigram, ibid. lines on the death of Lord Viſcount Courtenay, addreſſed to the Exe, 46. the new year's ſalutation, 47. on St. Auſtin, who officiated for a great number of years as a Biſhop in Africa, 48. the winter's walk, by Dr. Johnſon, 70. ſonnet, by W. H. Reid, ibid. winter, 71. on Cynthia, by Peter Pindar, Eſq. 72. the beau, ibid. prayer for the King, by an old curate of Doddington, in Oxfordſhire, aged eighty, 94. irregular ode to true greatneſs, 95. epitaph on a cat, 96. on faſhion, 118. an epitaph, by C. C. near Taunton, 119. the prudent wife, an original tale, by Peter Pindar, Eſq. 120. lines written by a lady, on her ſeparation from her huſband, 142. on the celebration of the 4th of November, as the anniverſary of the landing of King William the Third, of glorious memory, by Adoleſcens, of Barum, 144. advice to a Member of Parliament on the preſent critical juncture, ibid. a reflection, ibid. an imitation of the 14th ode of the 2d book of Horace, 167. verſes written by Mr. Renwick, many years a ſurgeon in the navy, and addreſſed to his wife, from whom he was then abſent, 168. extempore epitaph on the late celebrated and ingenious Dr. Monſey, of Chelſea College, written, at his deſire, by Peter Pindar, 168. tranſlation of an old Monkiſh epitaph on John Clark, one of the Fellows of Wincheſter College, who died in 1541, ibid. the bankrupt, a ſong, to the tune of "What tho' I'm a lady gay," 190. the tulips, an elegy, by W. Hamilton Reid, 191. the patriot's prayer, 192. the garden roſe and the wild roſe, a fable, by Dr. Langhorne, 214. Indian ſonnet, 216. General Conway's elegy on the death of Miſs Caroline Campbell, daughter of the Right Hon. Lord William Campbell, 238. on the ſudden death of Miſs Eleanor Courtenay, 239. ſonnet to the moon, 240. the genius of Britain, an ode, written on the happy recovery of his Majeſty, by Mr. Meyler, 262. ſtanzas written on the recovery of the King, by the Reverend Luke Booker, 263. addreſs to the Right Hon. W. Pitt, and his adherents, written in January, 1789, 264. on the death of a goldfinch, 286. the ſtorm, by C. C. near Taunton, 310. an effuſion of feeling and poetry, addreſſed to a friend, on the recent death of a moſt valuable and beloved wife, by Mr. Pratt, 311. epitaph on a young and amiable lady, 312. from Dr. Fordyce to General Conway, on reading his elegy on the death of Miſs Caroline Campbell, daughter of the Right Hon. Lord William Campbell, 334. nothynge is comparable unto a faithfull freend, 336. the violet and the panſy, a fable, by Dr. Langhorne, 358. ſong, by Peter Pindar, 360. epitaph on the monument of the late Rev. Mr. Brighton, of Egham, who was vicar of that place 45 years, by David Garrick, 360. ode to ſolitude, 365. ſonnets, by Anna Seward, 383. ſonnet to April, 383. lines written by the celebrated Thomſon to his Amanda, and ſent with a copy of the Seaſons, ibid. the country curate, by the Rev. Mr. Polwhele, 406. hymn for a Sunday

Sunday ſchool, 408. epigram, written on a diſcontented married couple, ibid. ode on the reſtoration of his Majeſty's health, recited by Mrs. Siddons, at the gala at Brookes's Tavern, in London, April 21, 1789, written by Mr. Merry, 428. addreſs to hope, 432. epigram occaſioned by ſeeing the thankſgiving day in ſome meaſure abuſed by vice and immorality, 450. verſes written by Mr. Keys, a teacher of dancing, &c. at the requeſt of a gentleman who had loſt an amiable young lady to whom he was ſhortly to have been married, 454. on ſpring, by William Baker, of Somerton, 454. on the frailty of human exiſtence, 455. to the daiſy, 456. ſonnet, by T. Ruſſel, Fellow of New College, Oxon, 470. the golden days of good Queen Beſs, 478. on ſpring, 479. addreſs to ſolitude, by Mr. Cumberland, 480. propoſed epitaph for Dr. Johnſon's monument in Weſtminſter Abbey, by Richard Paul Jodrell, Eſq. ibid. virtue and vice, a fable, 502. epitaph on a gardener whoſe name was Showers, by C. C. near Taunton, ibid. ſonnet, addreſſed to the moon, compoſed while walking over Saliſbury Plain at midnight, by Edlyne, 503. ſonnet, addreſſed to an abſent friend, on her recovery from ſickneſs, by Edlyne, ibid. epitaph on a huntſman, whoſe name was Scott, by Leander, of Somerton, 504. on hearing the Rev. Mr. Donne pathetically deſcribe the loſs of his daughter, a child about two years old, by W. Cory, Cranborne, ibid. the funeral, by C. C. near Taunton, 526. lines written on viewing the improvements at Pynes-Houſe, Devon, the ſeat of Sir Stafford Henry Northcote, Bart. 527. epitaph upon Richard Jones, Eſq. the ſubject of the excellent old ballad of "Happy Dick," 528. elegy occaſioned by the death of a friend, by Recluſa, 550. lines, written in the year 1788, occaſioned by the death of Miſs Blake, who died in May that year, by Recluſa, of Wincanton, 551. epitaph inſcribed to the memory of an honeſt lawyer, by W. Baker, of Somerton, 551. the naturaliſt's ſummer-evening walk, 552. ode for his Majeſty's birth-day, June 4, 1789, written by Mr. Warton, compoſed by Mr. Parſons, 574. elegy on the death of Miſs Elizabeth Sibrell, by William Nation, jun. of Plymouth, 576. epitaph on a ſtock-jobber, ibid. the penitent, a fragment, 578. Eleanor of Exeter, a ballad, written by Geo. S. Careys, 599. on a purſe preſented by Miſs B. to the author, 600. contemplations written on the ruins of Reſtormel-Caſtle, near Loſtwithiel, Cornwall, 622. ode, by a young gentleman, 623. ſonnet, by the Rev. Mr. Bowles, 624.

W.

Waſhington, General, extracts from his addreſs, as Preſident of the United States of America, to both Houſes in Congreſs aſſembled, 616.
Weiſſe, J. F. ſurgeon to Auguſtus I. King of Poland, intereſting hiſtorical trait of, 73.

Y.

Yeaſt, receipt for making, 182.
York cathedral, deſcription of, 34.
Youth and vanity, or the Turkiſh philoſopher, a tale, 9, 30.

THE

Weekly Entertainer;

OR,

AGREEABLE and INSTRUCTIVE

REPOSITORY.

CONTAINING

A COLLECTION OF SELECT PIECES,

BOTH IN

PROSE AND VERSE;

CURIOUS ANECDOTES,

INSTRUCTIVE TALES,

AND

INGENIOUS ESSAYS ON DIFFERENT SUBJECTS.

VOL. XIV.

SHERBORNE: Printed by R. GOADBY and Co.
M,DCC,LXXXIX.